

Translations:Biodigesteur domestique/34/en

The overflow represents the end of the digestive system. Each time the system is fed, the same volume of digestate leaves the digester. To make maintenance easier, a low exit is created. It allows draining of the digester.

- Place a PVC pipe in the second hole of the digester. It should not be too much inside, as would again limit circulation of the matter.