

Translations:Chauffe-eau solaire/10/en

---

The water at the bottom of the reservoir (cold) go down by simple gravity until it reach the end of the system. Little by little, at the contact with the hot air confine in the bottle (greenhouse effect), the water get warmer and by consequences go up in the pipe before going back to the reservoir