

Translations:Cuiseur micro gazéificateur/12/en

The micro gasifier lights up from above. The primary air introduced in the lower part passes through the mass of the fuel and makes it possible to maintain a pyrolysis bed which goes down as the combustible gases are released. The secondary air is injected in the upper part to provide oxygen necessary for the combustion of the gases that are released upwards.