- Corn starch or arrow-root (= maranta rhizome starch): these are two natural absorbents. They are also used to bind the product.
- Coconut oil: Used here for its moisturising and antibacterial properties.

 Use with parsimony! This product comes from far away (France) and therefore has a significant carbon footprint. What's more, coconuts are often harvested by monkeys, who are then held captive and mistreated. (See linked article)
