

Translations:Filtre à eau céramique/44/en

---

Drying the filters eliminates excess water before firing in the oven. If the water is not removed before firing, it will heat up, evaporate and expand, causing the filter to crack. At the end of the firing process, the filter elements will have lost more than 3 kg of water compared to the first time they are pressed.