

Translations:Filtre à eau céramique/45/en

Dehydration: filters are initially dried on air drying racks. Ideally in a warm place with good ventilation. After this initial drying period, the filters may retain their shape but are not solid and remain soluble in water.