

Translations:L'éolienne/82/en-gb

For a 6 wire it is hardly more complex: we apply the same method to determine the sets of 3 wires per spool. Then we switch to ohmeter mode and look for which pair of wires per coil gives the highest plus resistance ==> bingo you have found the right wires for one coil, repeat the operation for the other and you are good.