

Translations:Le biofiltre/29/en

The "percolate" (liquid matter) is composed in nutrients, organics molecules yet non degraded, as well as beneficials microorganisms decomposers. It is composed of liquid excretions from earthworms, humidity from the compost and fresh matters that are going down due to gravity.