

Translations:Le biofiltre/70/en-gb

- Temperature and humidity should be sufficiently high: worm compost should stay moist - even pour a small amount of water over it if necessary. Don't hesitate to throw in the remains from your teapot or coffee-maker (worms love caffeine!). Water (without added salt) from boiled rice can also be a treat for earthworms.