- Once the installation is complete, remove the SD card from your computer.
- Insert the SD card in your Raspberry Pi, connect it to the power supply and let it startup (this can take one or two minutes).
- Connect your computer, tablet or smartphone to the local WiFi network with the name you chose during installation.
- Open your internet browser and enter the following address in the address bar: http://<name>.hotspot, where <name> is the 'Project Name' you used during the installation (the same as the WiFi network).
- You should now see the Kiwix Hotspot homepage (see image 6).
