

Translations:Ordinateur low-tech/36/en

If you do not see this interface on startup, you can get it by launching the terminal and typing the command `sudo raspi-config` Once on this configuration interface, we will configure Raspbian such that you have optimal conditions during your subsequent usages and you could get the most out of your Raspberry.