

Translations:Pasteurisation de fruits et légumes/29/en

Pasteurisation is one of the heat treatment processes which least reduces nutritional value as the food is not heated to very high temperatures, contrary to sterilisation which can reach temperatures of up to 120°C.