This tutorial was made with David Mercereau. It is a retranscription of the work of Vital Bies who came up with the idea, designed Poelito and wrote the manual: <https://sites.google.com/site/assodes2mains/poele/le-poelito>. We thank them for their work for the common. In this tutorial, only the manufacture and use of the Poelito are detailed, additional options are available in the Vital manual such as chimney flaps, the association with a bench heater or a water heater. We also do not discuss the sand drainage holes, which complicate the construction. The sand can be removed from the top of the stove.
