

Translations:Water - Biosand Filter/48/en

---

The pathogens and suspended materials are eliminated by a combination of physical and biological processes that take place in the biological layer and within the sand layer. These processes include: mechanical entrapment, predation, adsorption, and natural death.