

Translations:Biodigesteur domestique/189/en

To supplement the gas production, you may want to use the stove with other gas sources. If the stove is connected to city gas, it is easy to add a three-way gas valve, to which two inputs (biogas from the biogas plant and natural gas from the network) can be connected, which can be opened as needed.